Co-op Shopping Centers Celebrate Week-Long "Davy Crockett Days"

Those smoke signals rising over Greenbelt, Takoma Park and Wheaton, Maryland, mean that "the King of the Wild Frontier" is on his way. Co-op Shopping Centers in the three communities are celebrating gala "Davy Crockett Days", Thursday, June 9 through Saturday, June 18. Though no Injun fightin' or bear huntin' is anticipated, a line-up of special events is planned for each center.

There will be prizes galore for adults and for junior "trailblazers." There are contests for everyone. Climaxing the nine days of festivities will be big "Davy Crockett Parades" at Greenbelt and Wheaton.

Cake-Bake Contest

Mark Evans and "Chuck" Du-lane will head a panel of judges for a cake-baking contest at each of the Co-op Centers. Homemakers who register in advance may enter a cake to compete for full-year memberships in the "Around The World Shoppers' Club." To each of the bakers of the three cakes selected by the judges will go twelve monthly gifts sent from different foreign countries. Every entrant in the contests at all three centers will be given a merchandise certificate good for one dollar on purchases made at any Co-op Store. Contestants must furnish their own baking ingredients, and they may use the recipe of their choice. Entrants may also decide which contest they wish to enter. Judging ceremonies at Greenbelt center will begin at 2 p.m. on Monday, June 13. Wednesday, June 15, is the date for judging at Takoma, at 2 p.m., and at Wheaton, at 3 p.m. Cakes should be submitted half an hour before judging time, and there is nothing in the rules that says that the man of the family cannot enter, too.

For the younger set, real feathered Indian war-bonnets, mailed directly from Sioux hunting ground country of the Far West to daily winners, will be given as prizes at each Co-op shopping center. Boys and girls may enter every day, during the Davy Crockett Days' celebration, by simply writing name and address on a form (provided free at any Co-op Store), and depositing this in one of the daily drawing boxes at any Co-op Food or Variety Store. Grown-ups may try similarly for daily awards of gasoline, oil, and lubrications, by depositing their entry forms at any Co-op Automobile Service Center.

Grand prizes of one hundred dollars in Co-op Store merchandise coupons will be given at each of the three centers for the best entries in a "Davy Crockett Limerick Contest." Details and free entry blanks are available at "Davy Crockett Days" information stands at Greenbelt, Takoma, and Wheaton Co-op Shopping Centers.

"Official" Entry Badges for the Davy Crockett Parades at Greenbelt and Wheaton are also obtainable at the Co-op information desks. The Wheaton parade begins at 11 a.m.; and the Greenbelt parade gets under way at 2 p.m.—both on Saturday, June 18. Parade routes will be announced in the News Review, and will be posted in advance at all Co-op centers.

Tickets to Walt Disney's "Davy Crockett—King of the Wild Frontier," opening at RKO Keith's Theater, June 22, will be given as prizes for various classifications of entries in both parades. The free admissions to the movie will go to owners of the best Davy Crockett grins, the best Davy Crockett yells, and for the best decorated bicycles and wagons entered in the parades.

Hal Silvers Gets Post As Civil Defense Head

By L. C. Pakiser

HYATTSVILLE, June 3 — Telling evidence of the growing influence of Greenbelt in Prince Georges County affairs was revealed when the county commissioners named Hal Silvers of 25-A Ridge Road to be the new Civil Defense Director of Prince Georges County. He replaces P. E. Clark, county agricultural agent, who had been conducting the county's civil defense effort in addition to his regular duties. Silvers' appointment to the important non-paid post came at the regular meeting of the commissioners last Friday.

Silvers is the third Greenbelter to move into a prominent role in Prince Georges County within recent months. Frank J. Lastner, Greenbelt's former mayor, was elected County Commissioner in the last election and Greenbelt's past Police Chief, now Major George Panagoulis, was later picked as the new Superintendent of the Prince Georges County Police.

Silvers, 36, is employed as National Secretary and National Membership Director of the American Veterans Committee (AVC) at its Washington headquarters. He has been on the national staff of AVC for ten years. In Greenbelt, he is a member of the local post of the American Legion, the Community Church, the PTA and the Greenbelt Citizens Association.

A resident of Greenbelt for two and a half years, Silvers has been active in county civic affairs since 1950. He has been a resident of Prince Georges County for 7 years. He was a deputy police commissioner of Seat Pleasant in 1950 and, at the same time, founder and first president of the Gregory Estates Civic Association. Silvers moved to Greenbelt from Silver Hill. He is married, and the father of four children.

Commenting on Silvers' appointment as county civil defense chief, Commissioner Lastner told the News Review that Greenbelter Silvers "is capable and dynamic" and will provide the needed spark in establishing a "sound and enlightened" civil defense organization and program for the entire county. "All of the commissioners have confidence in Silvers' talent and expect real achievement to follow from his efforts," Lastner said.

Silvers revealed to the News Review that he will call upon "every organization in Prince Georges County" for help in getting civil defense on the move and he urged all community groups in Greenbelt to participate actively. This reporter found Silvers deep in a study of the hearings and report of the Subcommittee on Civil Defense of the Senate Committee on Armed Services, headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.), the day after his appointment. He promised that a "full scale" program of civil defense for Prince Georges County will be announced in the near future.

While the post does not carry a salary, the director is provided with a $600 yearly expense account for transportation.

In accordance therewith the American Legion Honor Guard for the Southern Maryland District will conduct a flag burning ceremony at the Greenbelt American Legion Post Home on Sunday, June 12 at 1:30 p.m.

Anyone having a flag which is no longer suitable for display may leave it at the Post Home prior to June 12 or bring it to the ceremony for proper disposition.

American Legion Award Medals Go To 8 Outstanding Greenbelt Pupils

Eight Greenbelt boys and girls, representing Greenbelt's four schools, have won the American Legion School Award Medals. The school award plaques, on which their names will be engraved, were presented to the principals of the four schools by Commander Nelson Chapman in a ceremony at the Legion Hall on Sunday, June 5.

The awards are based on courage, leadership, honor, service, and scholarship. Each winner receives a medal, pin, and certificate. In addition, the plaques with their names on them will be on display at their respective schools.

Receiving the awards for the North End School at the Class Day program on Friday, June 3, were David Dalbow and Linda Leasia. Honorable mention certificates were received by Dennis Moore and Barbara McGee.

On this Thursday, June 9, the American Legion awards will be presented to Leo Weber and Mary Ellen Caldwell at the graduation exercises of St. Hugh's School. Honorable mention certificates will be presented to John Wilson and Theresa Madden.

The Legion awards for the Center School will be given to James Munday and Sandra Mirabella during Class Day activities on Friday, June 10. Honorable mention certificates will go to Melvin Herman and Judith Domchik.

Winners of the awards from Greenbelt Junior High are Charles W. Sansbury and Gail Stewart. Runners-up at that school are H. Thurston Utterback, Jr., and Kathryn Bower.

Invocation was by Rev. Braund, benediction by Rev. Birner.

Allan Chotiner, Principal of High Point High School was the guest speaker.

Short Storm Strikes, Rips Roofs Roughly

A brief storm blew into Greenbelt Sunday, May 29 at about 6:35 p.m. It was intense enough to cause great damage and some inconvenience before blowing right out again. It went from Southway to Ridge to Crescent. A roof was ripped off a Crescent Rd. apartment building, for which a repair cost of $3,000 is estimated. Other roofs were damaged, attics flooded, screens broken, and trees blown down along the route of the storm. Window panes at the food store gave way to the storm.

Courts one and two Westway went without electricity for nine hours. Sunday evening, families who'd already cooked supper, had to eat by candlelight. A couple of families resorted to an outdoor barbecue. Some dined on sandwiches.

Damage costs over $50 on each row of homes owned by GVHC are covered by Farm Bureau insurance.

NEW NUMBER

Frank Lastner's new phone number is Gr. 4-9577. He hasn't been dodging calls, he says. It's just that his number was changed and word hasn't got around yet. So here you are!

Co-op Congress Elects Supervisory Committee

By Sam Schwimer

At a meeting held in the Community Room of the Takoma Drug-Variety store on Friday, June 3, the GCS Congress elected a Supervisory Committee of five members, including Sam Schwimer and Sidney Rubin of Greenbelt, Jack Jennings and Edward Rizzo of Wheaton, and Norman Tubiash of Takoma. This committee replaces the Audit Committee in the GCS organization.

A lengthy discussion of the functions of the Congress was led off by Albert Herling, chairman of a committee set up to draft proposed duties for the Congress. Among the various proposals made by individual delegates were (1) participation on Board Committees, (2) participation in and planning area Co-op activities, (3) organize area meetings, (4) promote member relations and participation, (5) establish two-way communication between Board and members, (6) expand Co-op membership, (7) serve as store advisory committees, (8) work with staff and management to improve membership relations and store operations.

The discussion ended with the decision that each area group would develop and carry out a program of activity designed to meet the following objectives of the Congress:

(a) to maintain and promote channels of communication between the Board and membership, (b) to increase membership participation and interest in Co-op activities, (c) to develop the best candidates for the Board, (d) to give the Board advice and counsel on matters referred to it.

The Congress also elected an executive committee composed of the Chairman and Secretary of the Congress and the three area chairmen to coordinate the activities of the areas; referred the matter of review of the ballot for directors to a committee to be selected by the chairman; and requested the Board to review the by-laws to see if further clarifying amendments were necessary.

Annual Festival

Vincent Caruso, chairman of the Greenbelt Festival Committee, has announced that all organizations will be asked to send representatives to a meeting, date not yet decided, for the laying of plans for this Festival program. All money raised will be put toward a fund for a Greenbelt Recreational Building. This Festival is to be an annual affair for all of Greenbelt to take part in.

The School Corner Recreation Advisors Want Tot-Playgrounds

By Joan Dickerson

From the results of first grade registration at the Greenbelt elementary schools it appears that the number of first graders will be about the same as last year. At North End School 56 children were enrolled and 70 were enrolled at Center School. Two first grade classes are planned at North End and two and one half first grade classes at Center School.

The Glee Club opened and closed the Class Day program. They sang a school song written by Lila Shiren, Brian Tierney, Barbara McGee, Dennis Moore, and Carol Ann Hoff, members of the 6th grade class. The class prophecy was read by Mike Holms, 5th grade, and the class will be read by David Dalbow, 6th grade. Refreshments and dancing completed the program.

The Class Day activities at Center School will be on the last day of school, Friday, June 10. The children at Center School are finishing up the last week of school in a flurry of class picnics.

Eighteen 8th graders will be graduating from St. Hugh's School Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

Nearly 300 boys and girls will be leaving Greenbelt Junior High School for Bladensburg and High Point in the fall. There will be nearly 100 more new seventh graders coming in this fall than there were last year.

Northwestern

Five hundred fourteen students will be graduating on Monday evening, June 13 at 8 p.m. from Northwestern High School. Valedictorian for the Senior Class is Jane Gager, from Hyattsville, and salutatorian is Harriet McGovern, also from Hyattsville. The American Legion Award for Citizenship and Outstanding Student was won by George Daniels, from Berwyn, and Sharon Romer, from Greenbelt.

The Awards Assembly was held at High Point High School on Tuesday, June 7. A nylon American flag and staff was presented to the school by the College Park American Legion. The College Park Auxiliary presented awards for the three best essays on "Why I Should Vote," to Peggy Ford, Laura Weller, and Stewart Hanlein. Peggy Ford won first prize and Laura Weller third prize in the District (which includes Montgomery, Prince Georges, Calvert, and Anne Arundel Counties) Essay Contest. Peggy's and Laura's essays have gone into the state finals. Peggy Ford won 2nd prize for oration in Prince Georges County. Choral Group Completes First Year With Picnic

The Greenbelt Choral Group has completed its first year (harmoniously) and in celebration will hold an evening picnic at the lake on Saturday evening, June 11. Organized last October as a community contribution by the Jewish Community Center, the Choral Group has spent its first year in developing a varied repertoire which its director, Albert K. Herling, hopes can be presented in public performance sometime next season.

Since its inception, the Choral Group has tried to appeal to the amateur singer and a serious attempt has been made to keep interest at a high level by securing music of a wide enough range of interest to keep everyone happy. Thus, its numbers include some by the master Johann Sebastian Bach, folk songs, spirituals, Rodgers and Hart numbers and the whole gamut in between. On the theory that everyone likes to sing, the Choral Group keeps its membership roles open at all times. Those who have regularly attended the rehearsals of the group testify to the fact that in spite of the fact that much is learned, a good time is had by all. A genuine fellowship and camaraderie has developed and the group loyalty which has been so quickly attained, testifies to the value of the group as an important part of community life.

Birth Certificate Due For Babe Ruth Play

The Co-op Babe Ruth League of Greenbelt begins its 1955 baseball season with four games scheduled the week of June 19. Morning games will be played Monday, June 20, Wednesday, June 22 and Thursday, June 23. Game time is 10 a.m. for each. The official "League Opener" will be Saturday, June 25 at 11 a.m., at which time a trophy will be presented last season's "Most Valuable Player." All Babe Ruth League parents and friends are urged to attend the Saturday "Opener."

Next week's News Review will list the teams playing the week's schedule. Printed schedules should be available for everybody in Greenbelt in the near future.

Two important items will come up this Saturday for all aspiring Babe Ruth League candidates. Deadline time is here for birth certificates, as set up by Babe Ruth League National Headquarters in Trenton, New Jersey. Every candidate must bring his birthday certificate and two dollars for insurance coverage (already procured) this Saturday morning. Birth Certificates will be returned as soon as they are noted by the league president. Uniforms will be issued in the very near future. Coaches will discuss that with the boys at practice Saturday. In no case will a uniform be issued if a boy has not submitted his two dollar insurance fee.

The National Guard St. Hugh's Sodality Our Citizen Soldiers Third Annual Dinner

By Capt. J. Clancy Wells
(AUS Ret'd.)

As Caesar had his Tenth Legion, which, through the centuries that have elapsed since the Roman conquest of Britain, has been accepted by military students as an organization that best exemplified the military (and national) virtues of loyalty, patriotism and professional skill, so, of late, have the residents of Greenbelt become increasingly aware that they have in their midst a military unit composed of citizen soldiers (as were the Roman Legions) who are proving themselves capable of maintaining those virtues as well as the high traditions of the military services of the United States.

Battery "B" of the 129th Field Artillery Bn., (29th Division) Maryland National Guard, whose coat of arms bears the Latin inscription "Quercus Crescit" (The Oak Grows); presently headquartered at the Greenbelt Armory, is that unit.

Re-organized shortly after the close of World War II the battery is the lineal successor and inheritor of the traditions of the famous 110th Field Artillery (29th Div), of World War I fame and Troop "A", 1st Maryland Cavalry, which (prior to World War I) was located at Hyattsville.

The unit, having successfully met Department of the Army requirements and passed inspection, was Federally recognized as a 6 gun, 105 millimeter firing battery in January 1948, and is now under the command of Captain Eugene A. Ehrlich, a resident of Silver Spring.

Its present strength numbers six officers and over fifty enlisted men, several of whom are veterans of World War II and the Korean campaign. A few vacancies are now open to residents of Greenbelt who can meet the physical and educational requirements for enlistment and this opportunity should be of interest to the younger men of the community who, otherwise, would be subject to the draft provisions of the Selective Service Act. Accepted applicants for membership in the battery would be required to attend a weekly two-hour instruction period, for which they would receive from the Federal Government in accordance with their rank, or rating; the minimum being $2.85 for each drill attended.

On or about July 25 the unit will proceed by motor convoy to the Indiantown Gap (Pa.) Military Reservation, where it will rendezvous with other elements of the 29th Division for a two-week field training period.

Shortly after return to home station the new armory will be dedicated at a public ceremony at which several state and Department of Defense officials are expected to be present.

St. Hugh's Holy Name Society is holding the annual Parish Picnic on Sunday, June 19. The picnic is a yearly event, planned as a day of special reunion for old and new Greenbelters as well as former friends who were lost in the sale shuffle. Rhatigan, chairman of the picnic this year, is asking for able-bodied men to assist him in setting up booths, clearing the grounds, and taking charge of various games and sports events during the picnic. Interested volunteer helpers are urged to call him as early as possible on 4622.

Nursery School Picnic At Greenbelt Lake

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School will close the season with a picnic at Greenbelt Lake on Monday, June 13, beginning at noon. Anyone interested in the nursery school is invited to attend.

All parents and children planning to attend the picnic are asked to meet at the school at 14 Parkway at noon. Those requiring rides should call Mrs. Helen Justman at 7071 or Mrs. Jennie Klein at 6291.

Parents who wish to register their children for the fall term should contact Mrs. Eleanor Hillebrand at 3836.

Kindergarten Meeting

The 1955-56 group of the Greenbelt Co-operative Kindergarten will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, June 15 in Fellowship Hall of the Community Church at 8 p.m. This is an important meeting and all members are urged to attend. Enrollment is fast reaching its quota and if you have not already registered your child contact Mrs. Robinson (5153) for the Center School or Mrs. Hatton (3251) for the North End.
